

SixFeetUp

SixFeetUp is a unique musical experience. The band features two great vocalists, three talented instrumentalists and an electronic rhythm section that delivers a big sound in a small package.

Originally from Edmonton Alberta, SixFeetUp spends the winter in Scottsdale, AZ and features: Kevin Gainer on alto, baritone sax, flute and clarinet, Gail Gainer on tenor, soprano sax, and Bruce McGillivray on trombone. Bruce and Gail split the vocal duties.

1950s Rediscovered

SixFeetUp

A musical journey through the decade that shaped popular culture.

The 1950s are credited with starting rock 'n' roll but there is so much more to the music of the decade. In fact, we found 10 different styles of music that hit the charts in the fifties. Join SixFeetUp as we showcase over 45 top ten songs and use stories and humor to revisit some of the key elements that shaped the pop culture of the period.

We will explore the origin of rock 'n' roll and doo-wop, and how folk, rhythm and blues and international influences began to be felt on pop charts throughout the nation and how rock 'n' roll exploded in popularity.

SixFeetUp will use our live horns and vocals to remember the energy and spirit of Elvis and his contemporaries. 1950s Rediscovered is a fast-paced concert that engages audiences and reminds them of what they already knew.
